MediHerb® Black Cumin Seed Forte

Herbal Support for a Modern Lifestyle*

Healthy digestion is the foundation of well-being, a truth that's well understood in both traditional medicine systems and Western naturopathy. Ayurveda calls digestion a "sacred fire", that fire in the belly that turns the foods we eat into fuel.

Black Cumin seed, popularly known as the "seed of blessing", has been treasured for centuries as a health-enhancing spice, a preservative and a remedy. It provides a natural balance to today's modern diet – often overloaded with refined sugars and fats.

Black Cumin seed has been used traditionally in Ayurvedic herbal preparations to support the metabolism of fats and sugars and to support normal liver function. The seed has also been traditionally used to help relieve occasional mild digestive discomfort, including bloating and flatulence.*

What is Black Cumin Seed Forte?

Black Cumin Seed Forte is a high-strength formula comprising of Black Cumin seed (Nigella sativa). Each tablet contains 400 mg extract produced from 2000 mg dried Black Cumin seed.
