From ancient times, people have understood the importance of healthy digestion. The Indian system of Ayurveda, traditional Chinese medicine and Western herbalism all consider digestion to be the cornerstone of well-being.

In Ayurveda, it’s called a “sacred fire,” the digestive fire in the belly that turns the proteins, fats, carbohydrates and nutrients from our food into fuel.

Aromatic, pungent, bitter and warming, the herbs and spices used in Metabol Complex are like kindling for this digestive fire, helping to provide a crucial boost to overall health and preventing metabolic imbalance.

Often called the “seed of blessing”, Black Cumin has been revered for centuries as a spice and remedy. It’s customarily used to help the liver metabolize fat and to effectively relieve mild intestinal bloating and gas.

One of the oldest cultivated medicinal plants, Fenugreek seed is thought to help support the nourishment of the pancreas by clearing metabolic waste.

In both Western and Ayurvedic herbal traditions, Cinnamon is known to help improve the digestion and absorption of nutrients. It may relieve symptoms of indigestion and promote vitality.

From the same family as cucumbers, Bitter Melon is a long-standing staple from the Amazon to China. It is traditionally used to help support normal pancreatic function, clear metabolic build-up, spark the digestive fire and help support the body’s ability to metabolize fats and sugars efficiently.
